PROGRAM

Every attorney in their career makes mistakes. However, a good attorneys will learn from their mistakes and the mistakes of others. George Washington once said, “To rectify past blunders is impossible, but we might profit by the experience of them.” In this seminar we will look to profit from the blunders of other attorneys. We will review the O.J. Simpson trial and other trials, both real and reel to determine errors that attorneys made both in and outside the courtroom and how we can learn from those mistakes. We will review blunders related to technology, courtroom demonstrations, expert testimony, pretrial preparation, pleadings, cross-examination and jury selection.

PRESENTED BY:

Philip Bogdanoff is a trained educator with an undergraduate degree in education. After graduating from law school he became an assistant prosecutor in 1981. Bogdanoff argued 20 cases before the Ohio Supreme Court including six death penalty cases. He acted as a police legal advisor to numerous law enforcement agencies reviewing search warrants and providing legal advice on search and seizure. Bogdanoff first developed an interest in ethics and professionalism when he participated on a task force with the Ohio Ethics commission and United States Attorney’s Offices investigating corruption in Summit County government. In 2013 Mr. Bogdanoff was appointed as an independent consultant on a police shooting involving 13 police officers in Cleveland, writing a 67 page report detailing whether 13 police officers used excessive force.
