Animal Cruelty in Ohio

May 17, 2023

12 – 1 p.m.

1.0 Hour of New Lawyer
Training Credit (pending)

PROGRAM

In this program, Mr. Holland will provide a high-level introductory discussion of current law in Ohio surrounding animal cruelty, neglect, and abandonment with a focus on both companion and non-companion animals. Additionally, he will address Good Samaritan Vehicle Law as it applies to animal welfare in Ohio.

PRESENTER

J. Jeffrey Holland, Esq.,
Holland & Muirden, Attorneys at Law

J. Jeffrey Holland has represented many individuals with a variety of animal welfare legal issues. He has also represented a number of animal welfare organizations, including humane societies in 55 of Ohio's 88 counties. He has served as special prosecutor for hundreds of animal cruelty cases in many courts across the State of Ohio for more than 30 years. Holland is an Adjunct Professor for Animal Law at the Case Western Reserve University School of Law and the Cleveland-Marshall Law School in Cleveland. Holland frequently conducts training sessions and presentations for humane agents, dog wardens, police, veterinarians and attorneys, including: the International Animal Law Summit in San Diego, the Midwest Veterinary Conference; the Ohio Veterinary Medical Association, the Ohio State University, the Ohio State Bar Association, the Cleveland Bar Association, the Ohio Dog Warden's Association, the National Animal Control Association and the Montana Veterinary Medical Association. Jeff and his wife Marjorie have 4 sons. They live in Medina County, Ohio with 2 dogs, 3 cats, 6 horses and a variety of foster rescue animals.
