PRESENTERS:

Chris Carville, Esq., Carville Legal Counsel, LLC. Representing injured cyclists is a Passion Project for Chris where he can put over twenty years legal experience and tens of thousands of miles of training and racing to use for his clients. As of the inception of his firm Chris only represents injured cyclists. Prior to that he had litigated both sides of cycling and pedestrian accident cases. Chris litigates bicycle accident cases in both Ohio and the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Chris takes a very collaborative approach to representing injured cyclists, enlisting the expertise of treating physicians, therapists, and chiropractors.

Steven M. Magas, Esq., The Magas Firm, nationally known as Ohio's Bike Lawyer, is an Ohio trial lawyer with 39+ years of courtroom experience. His solo practice focuses on bike matters and he is starting a new non-profit — The Bicycle Crash Research Center — which will take over his "Fatal Crash Project" for the future. Steve has written Bike Law since the 1980s and a co-author of "Bicycles & The Law" as well as a contributor to other books on Bike Law.
